reflection

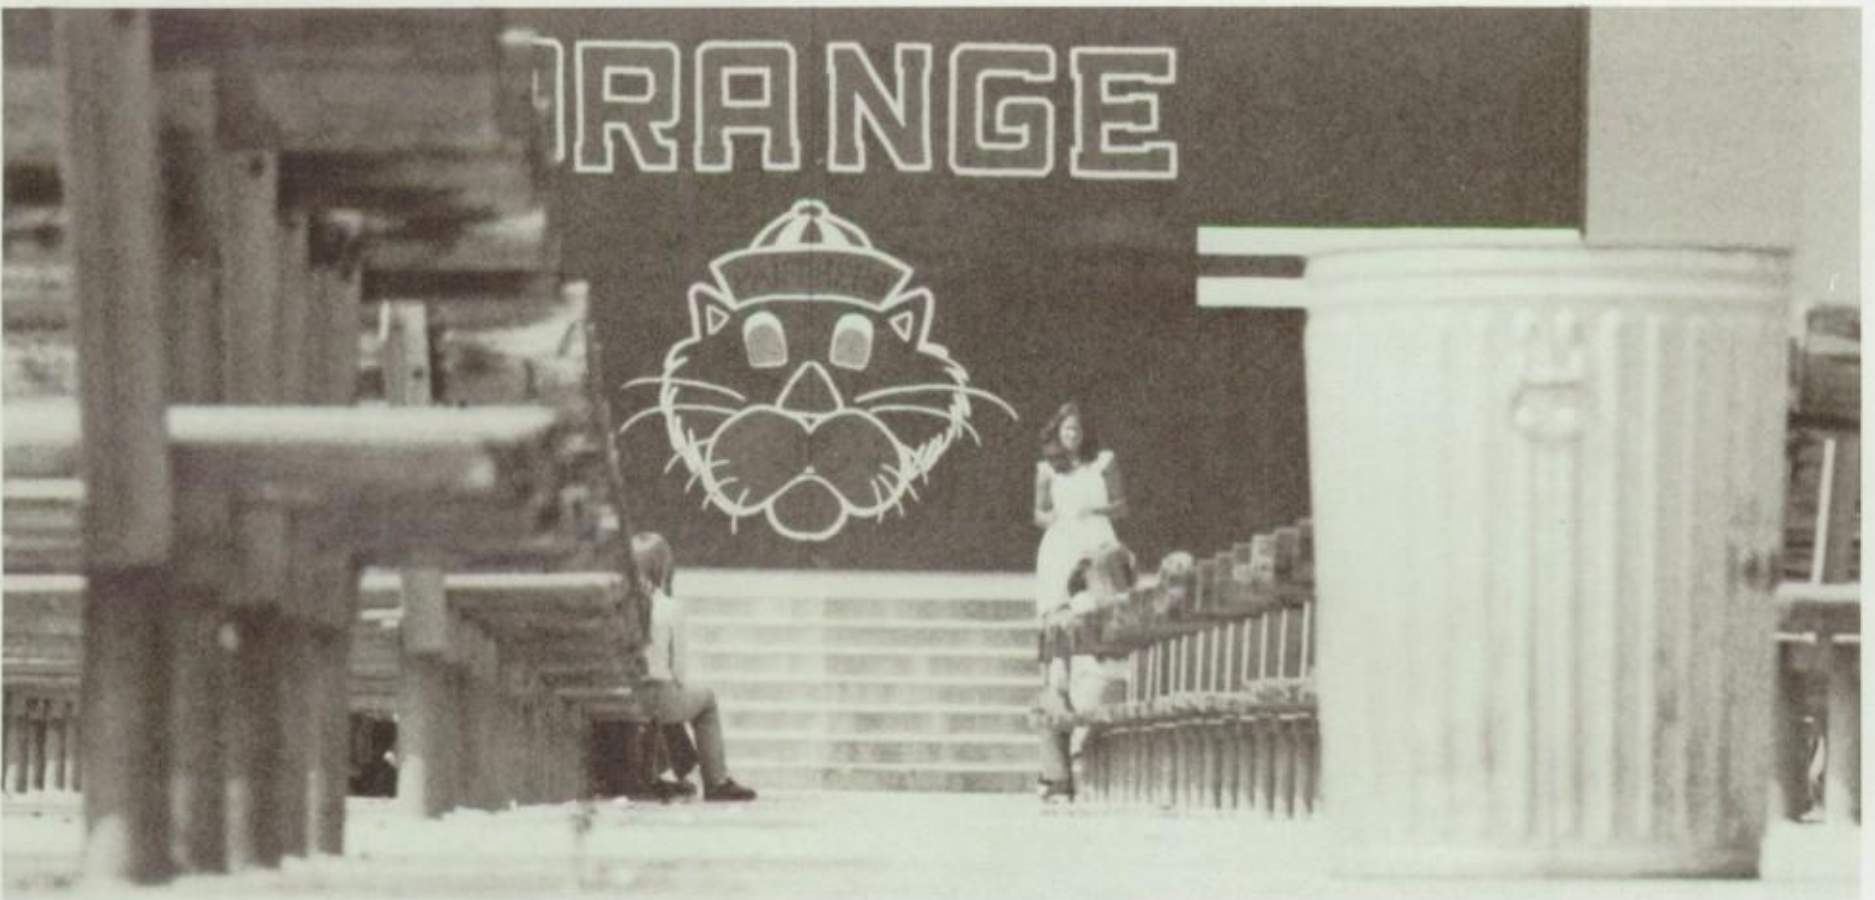

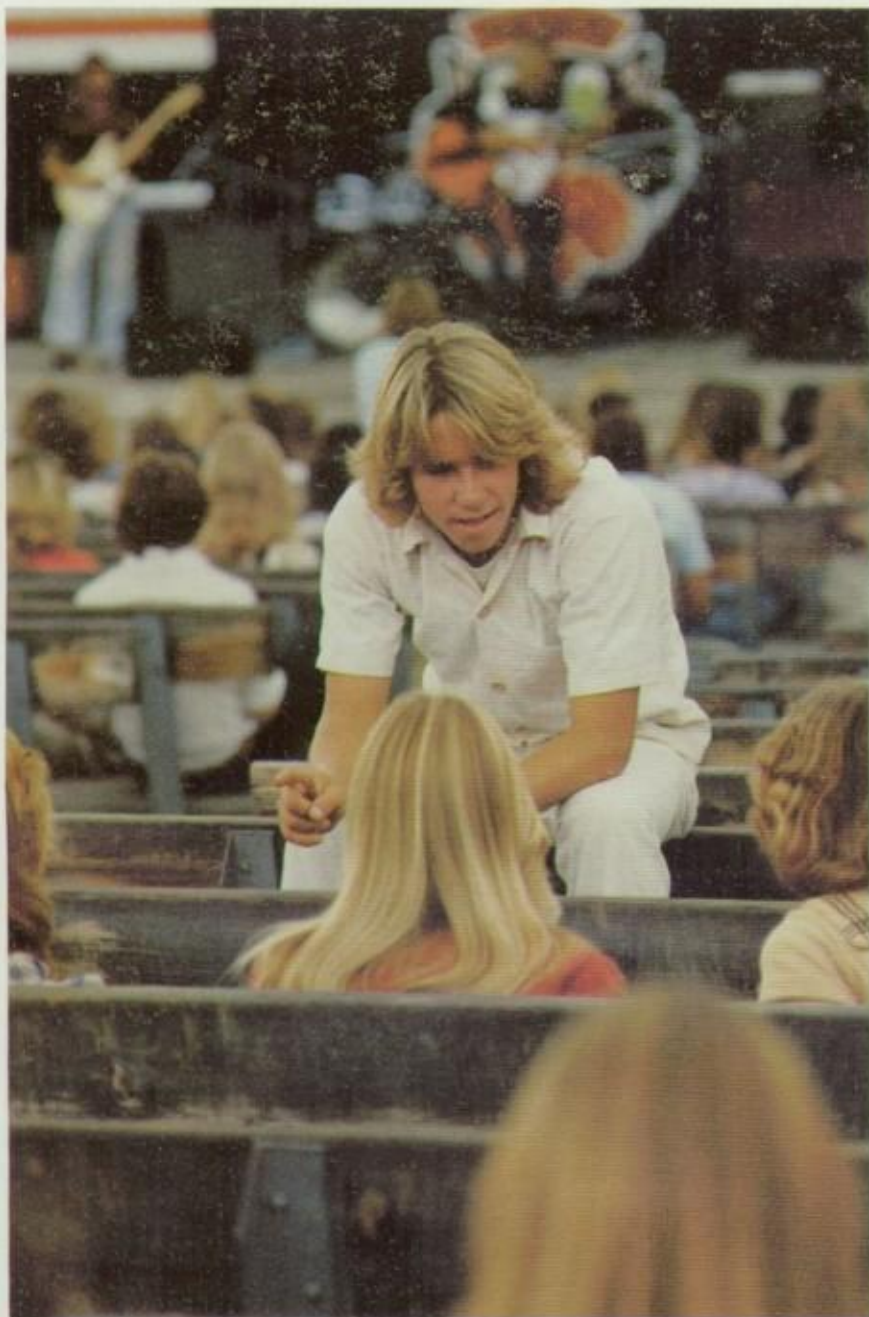

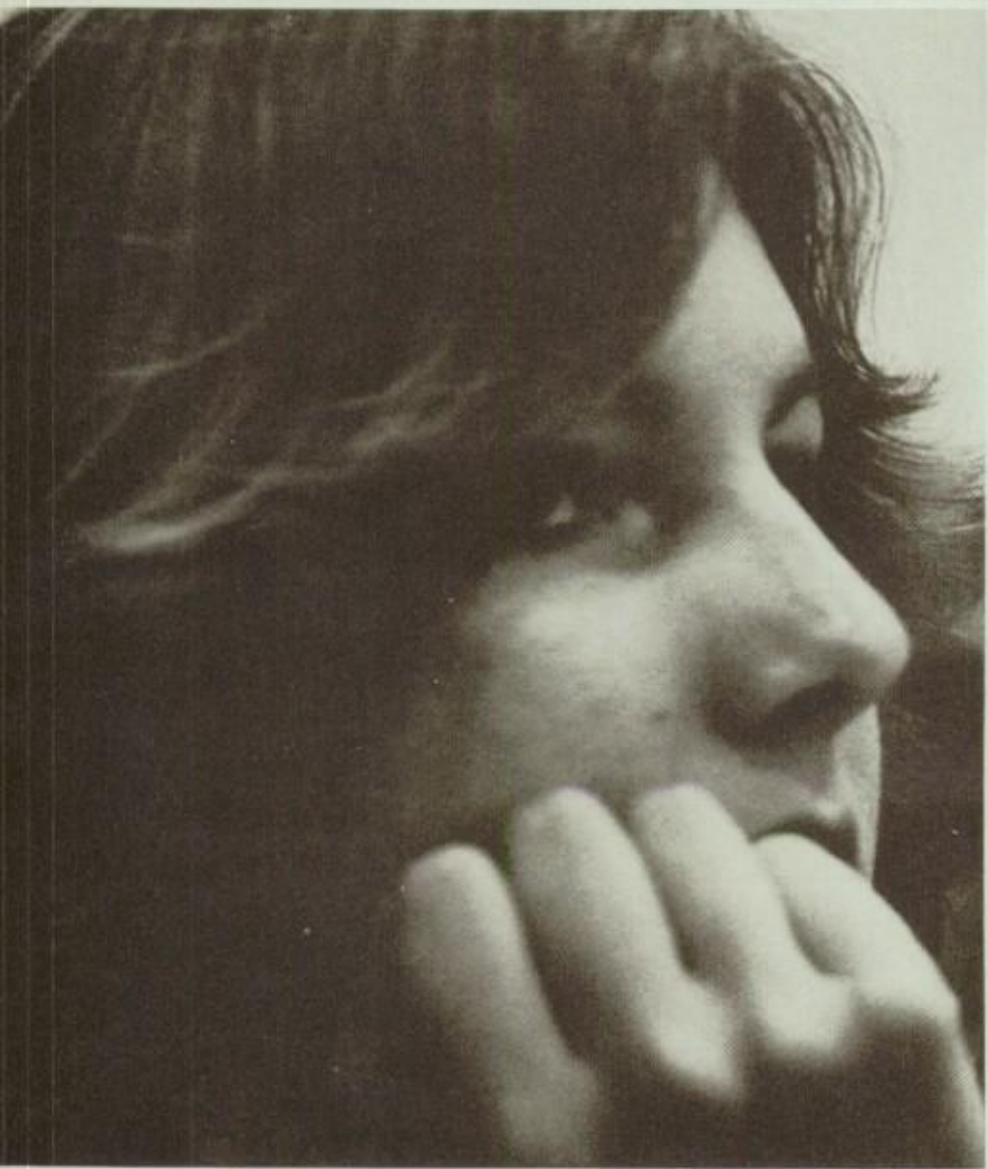

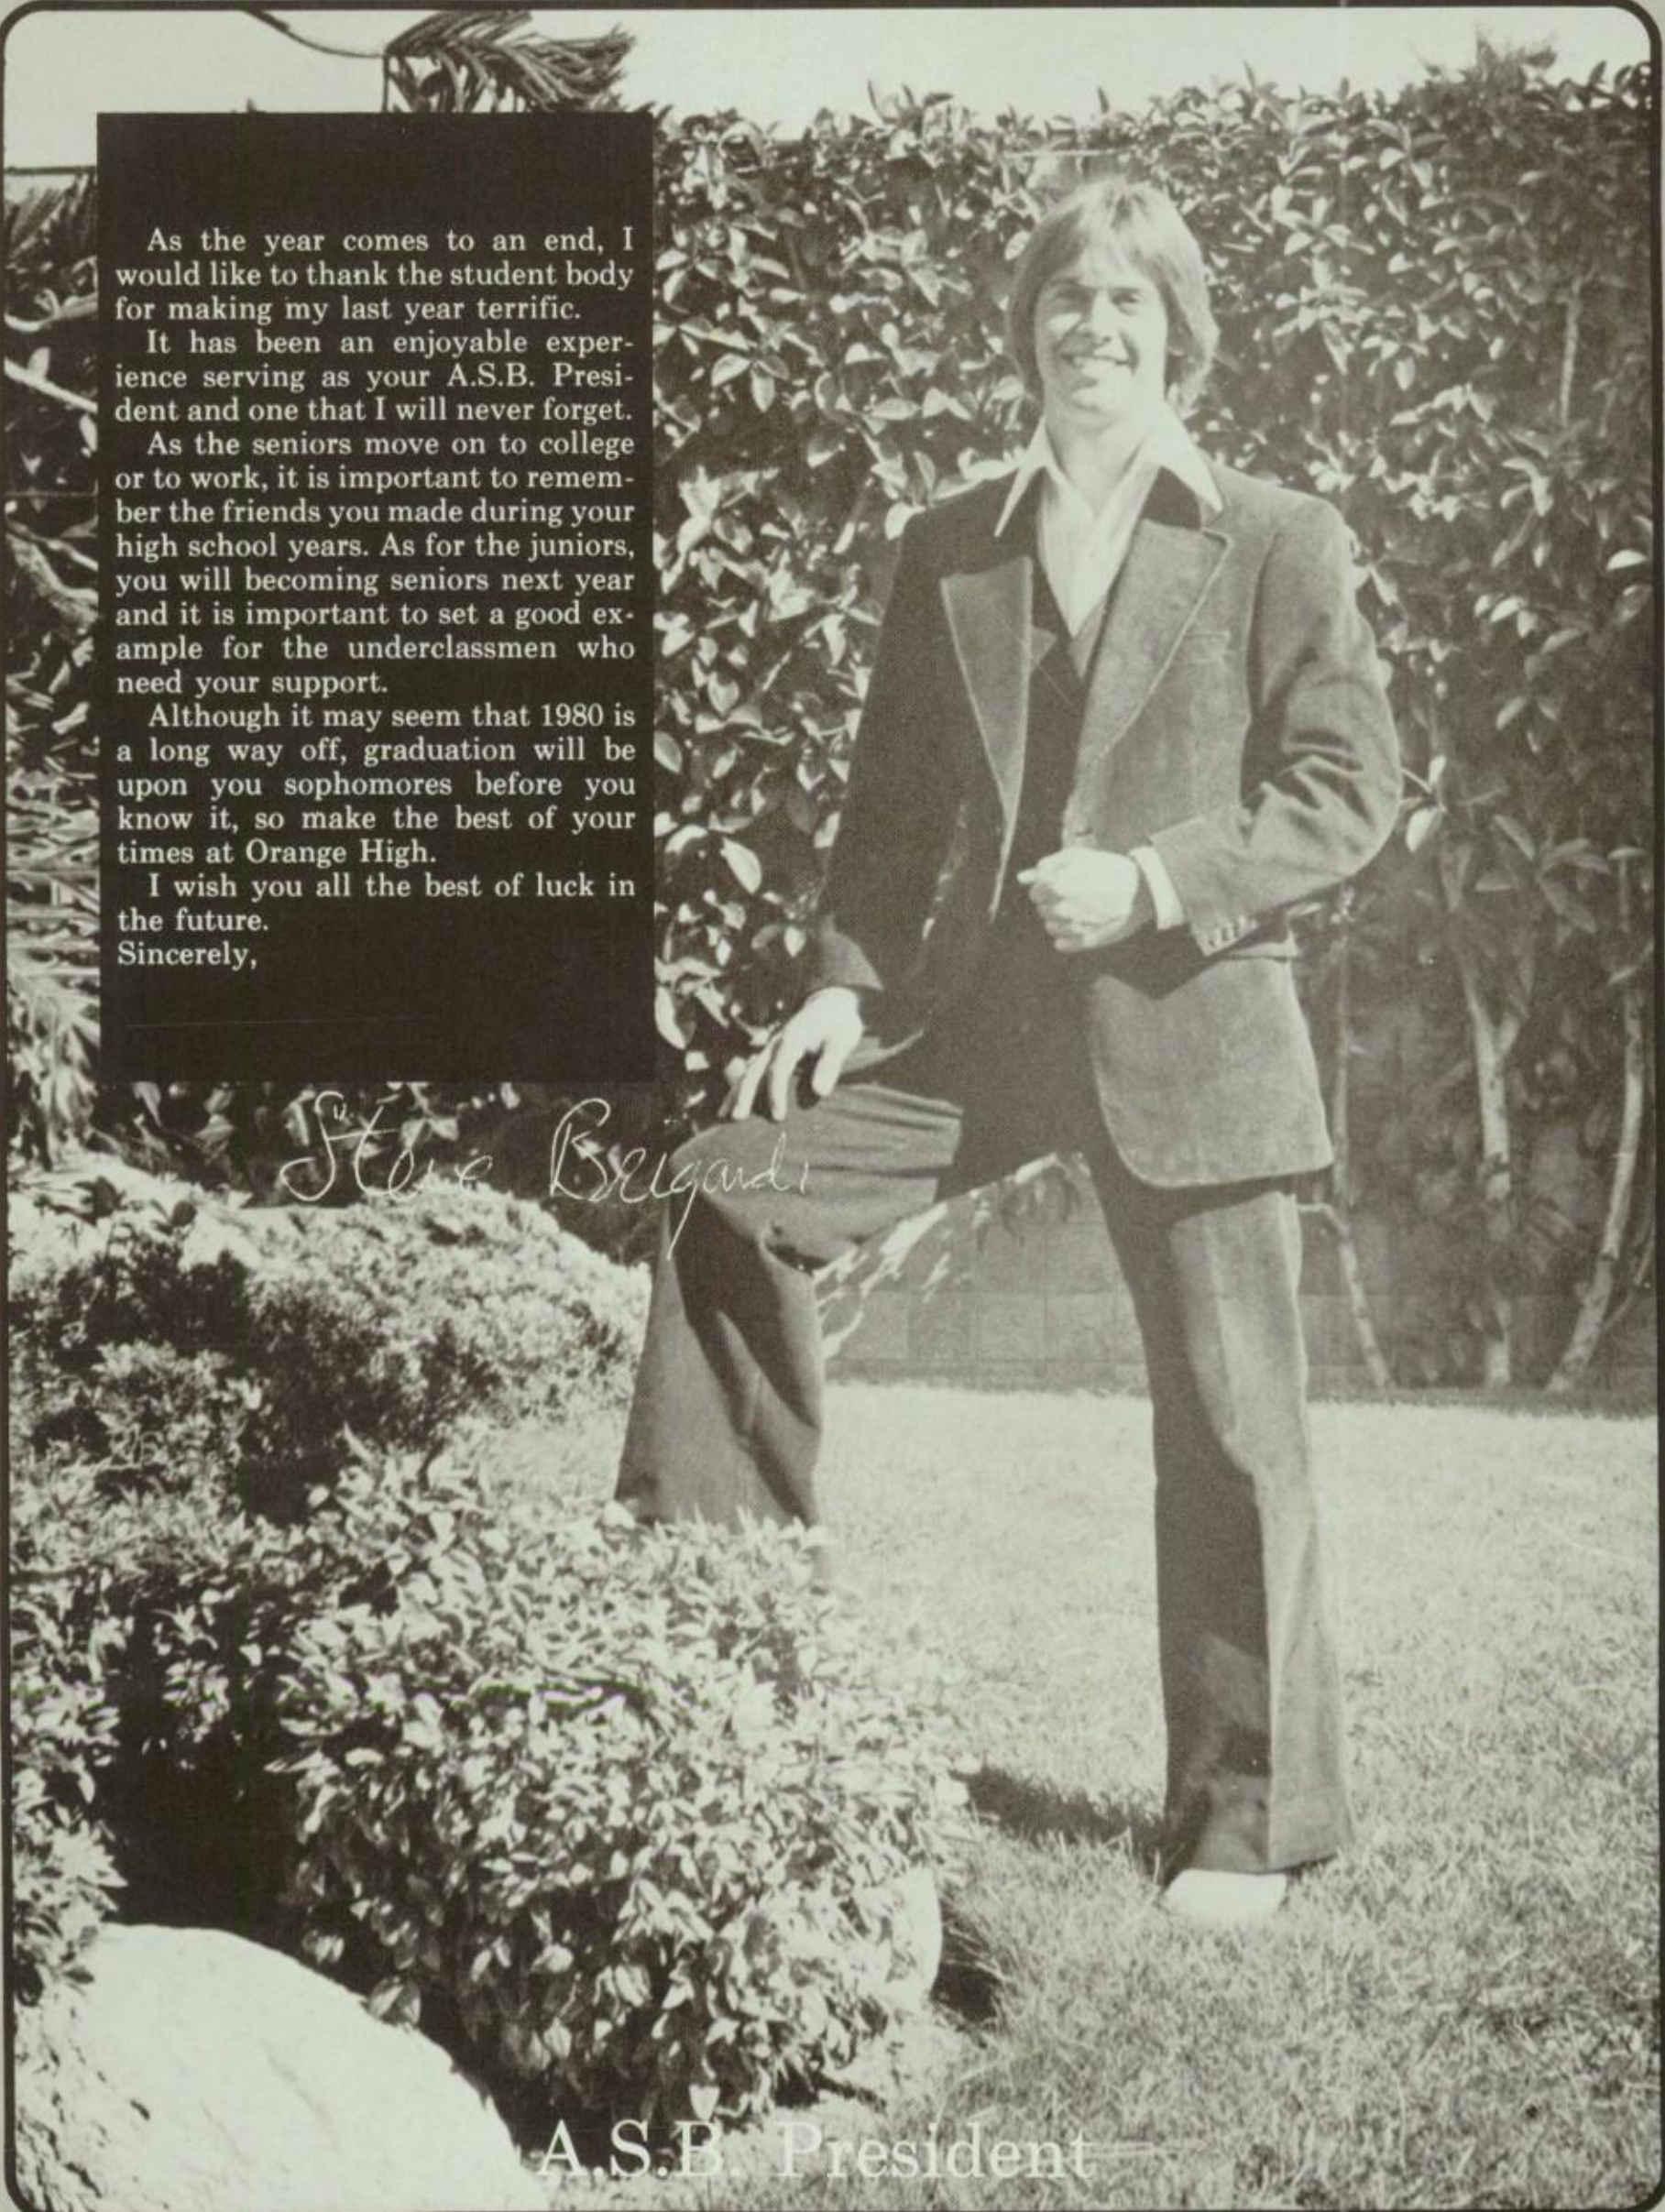

expression

As the year comes to an end, I would like to thank the student body for making my last year terrific.

It has been an enjoyable experience serving as your A.S.B. President and one that I will never forget.

As the seniors move on to college or to work, it is important to remember the friends you made during your high school years. As for the juniors, you will be becoming seniors next year and it is important to set a good example for the underclassmen who need your support.

Although it may seem that 1980 is a long way off, graduation will be upon you sophomores before you know it, so make the best of your times at Orange High.

I wish you all the best of luck in the future.

Sincerely,

Steve Brigandi

Yell Leaders Spark Enthusiasm

The Yell Leaders began the year at cheerleading camp and practicing new routines during the summer so that they would be "fired" up and able to keep school spirit at a high pitch throughout the school year. They worked hard to make the year a memorable one.

Song Leaders Give Their All

The Song Leaders also began the year by practicing long hours on routines during the summer. This dedication made for an excellent pep squad. The Song Leaders were devoted all year to pep up school spirit by holding rallies and assemblies.

J.V.'s Show Pride

The new pride of Orange High lies within the Junior Varsity cheering section which enhanced the spirit of many Junior Varsity and Sophomore sports activities. The Junior Varsity expressed dedication to their school in the highest degree in their efforts to make the year a memorable one for the underclassmen.

A Yearbook Is . . .

... writing captions and copy, ...

... taking over 4000 pictures, ...

... seeing what other schools are doing, ...

And much more. A yearbook is memories, something that you will look at again and again over the coming years. When you think about the "good old days" and recall the people who were really important to you then.

And when your children and grandchildren ask you what high school was like when you were there, together with them you can turn through the pages and relive Orange High School.

Drama

The OHS Drama Dept. had a very eventful year in 77-78 with two major productions; "Haunting of Hill House" by Shirley Jackson, and Agatha Christie's "Ten Little Indians." In addition, membs presented several one-act plays including: "Here We Are," "Marriage Proposal," and "The Lottery."

English Stresses Basic Skills -

At Orange High School, English plays an important role in the curriculum. There are two major tests that students must pass to earn a diploma. These tests are the C.T.B.S reading test and the Composition Proficiency Test. By school board policy, the class of 1980 will be required to pass these two major tests to receive the high school diploma.

The Sophomores who have not passed these tests should contact their counselors and find out when they can take them.

The class of 1979 should be concerned about the tests as some colleges require similar examinations for admittance.

Kevin Delsandro writes his first draft of the Composition Proficiency test.

Using a controlled Reading Machine, George Nobile attempts to improve his reading skills.

As Pam Bakenhus demonstrates, individual is an important part of the English program.

Math Dept. Stiffens Requirements

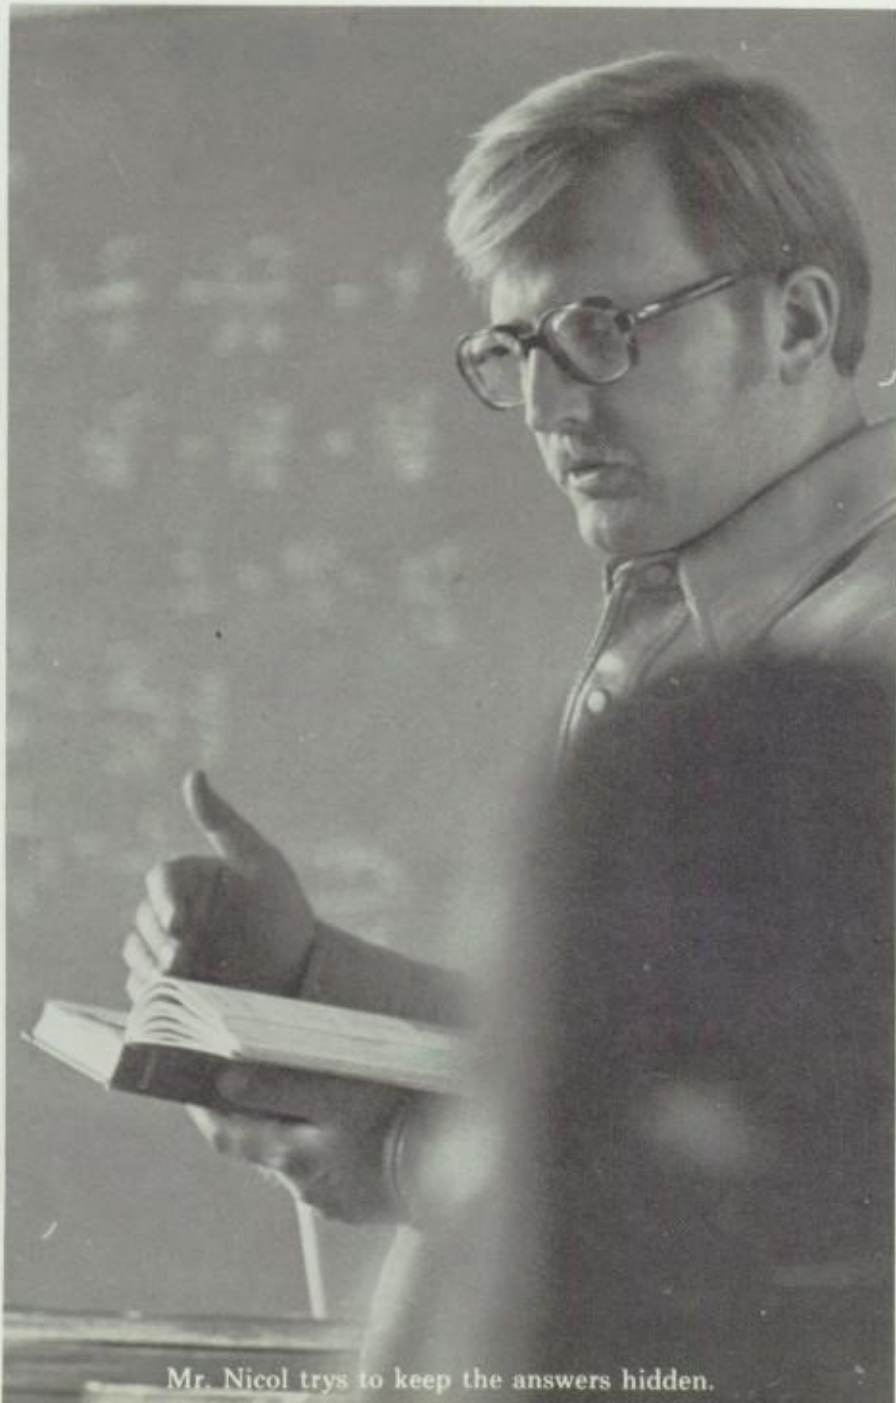

Math class is one of the most important subjects at Orange High School. Math helps the student to deal with personal finance, math also teaches the student how to approach problems in a logical sense and it is a means of solving and analyzing everyday problems.

At OHS each student must have ten units of math and have passed the Math Proficiency Test by his senior year, or he will not receive his diploma.

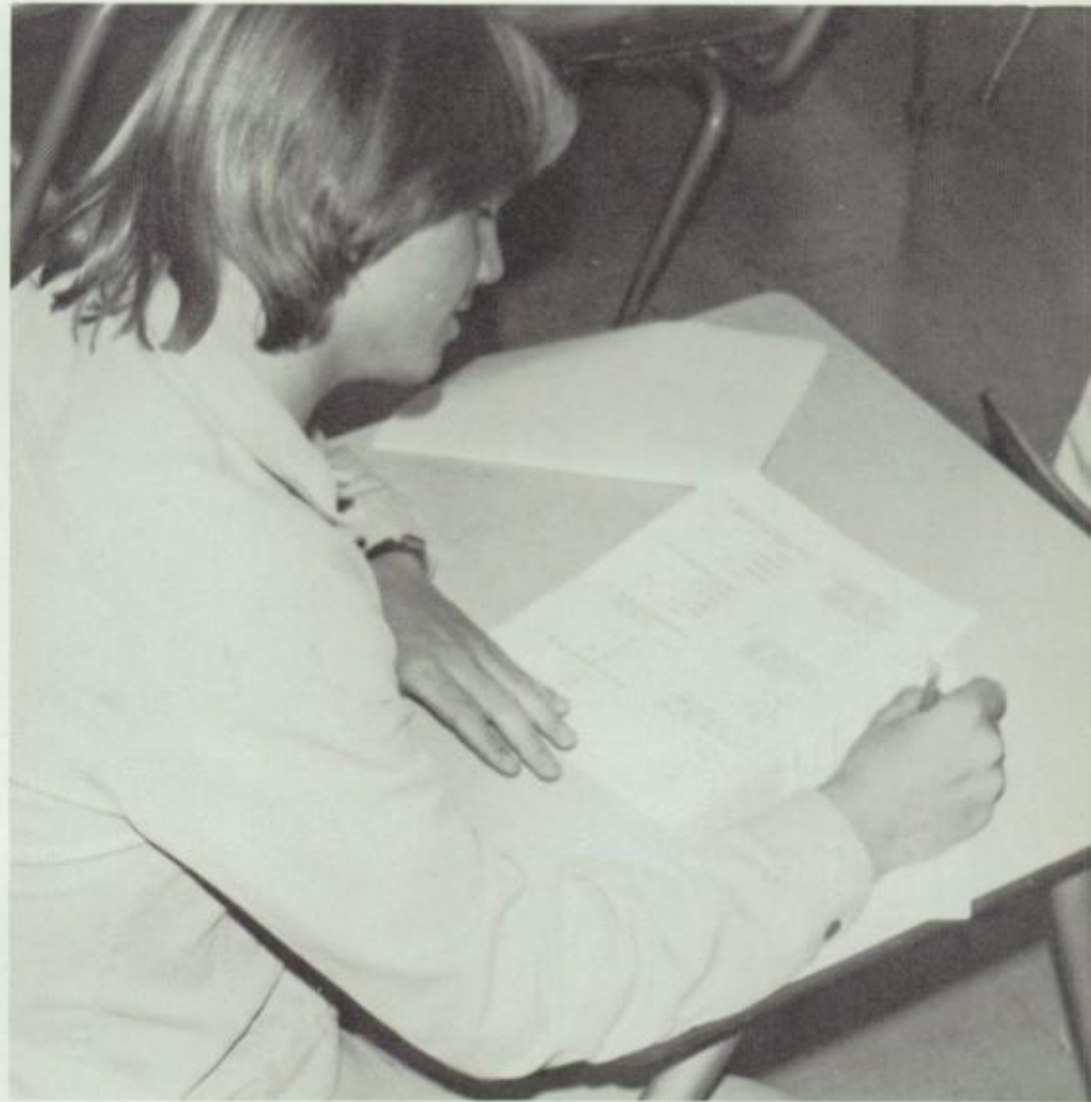

It is true, that at OHS, math is not required after the sophomore year. A person who has not planned to take Math after the sophomore year, had better reconsider. Colleges have various requirements of math Proficiency for admittance. It would be wise for the students that know the College they wish to attend requires for admittance.

Brian Haggerty, assisted by Mrs. Perkins and Jay Dovovan, launches cruise missiles on the OHS Computer.

Mr. Nicol tries to keep the answers hidden.

Another day, another proficiency test for Jeff Aton.

Social Studies

Each semester, Orange High students have to choose a social studies class.

Sophomores are confronted by a broad selection of courses including Japan and World Religions, Asia and the Middle East, Problems of the Third World, Latin America, Africa, and World History. These classes inform first year students of the history and customs of different foreign countries.

On the other hand, all juniors, except those in Humanities (a history and english course for special students), must enter a U.S. History class. Here, students engage in a variety of activities ranging from formal lectures to making television shows.

Finally, seniors have to choose two classes from the three offered. These courses cover such areas as American government, comparative political systems, and social psychology.

Science

The Science Department includes the skills of chemistry and biology, along with the elements of physics, physiology, life science and health.

Students find many opportunities to develop projects through evaluations with their own experiments. Basically, science expands the students range of knowledge is our complex world.

Craig Reeker and Kelly McPheeters dissect their Physiology project. (Left) Glen Duffy attempts yet another cure for the common cold.

Agriculture And Horticulture Teaches Students Responsibility

Agriculture and Horticulture teaches O.H.S. students how to work. In the agricultural class the student learns how to breed, feed, and manage livestock and poultry. Some students, if they wish, may purchase a calf or lamb at the beginning of the year and sell it at the end of the year. This takes a responsible person to take care of his animal, he must feed it every day of the week. Many students become attached to their animal and do not wish to see it sold, but they must be sold to pay for all the work and money put into the care of their animal. Horticulture teaches the student how to identify certain plants and take care of plants. Many students also learn to run the machinery needed to run a ranch or farm.

If the student is involved in these classes he will enjoy them very much.

After he feeds us, will jump him.

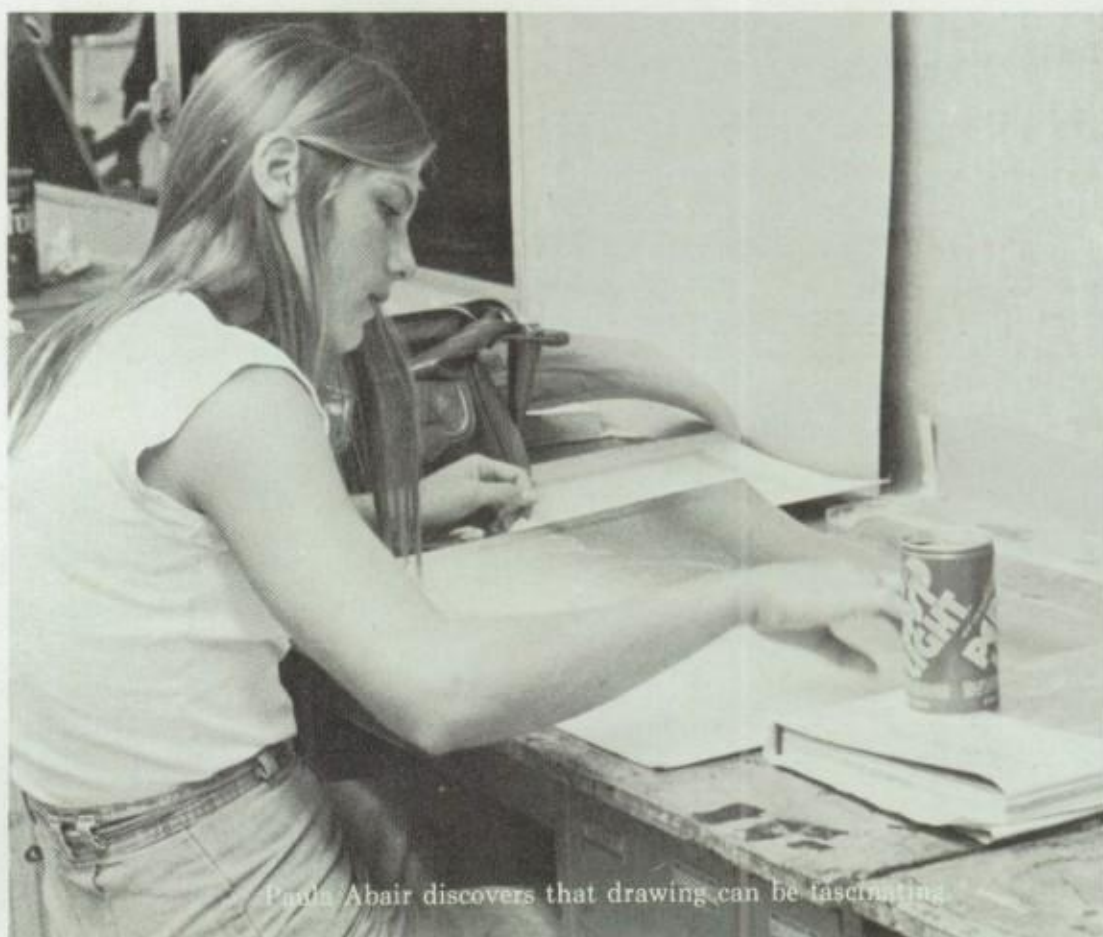

"I have been waiting in this snack line for an hour."

"Farm life sure is dullsville."

Art Department Interprets Life

The Art Department of Orange High School comprises numerous art media in which the individuals are able to express themselves through the use of technical art concepts. The variety of courses includes Art 1-4, ceramics, crafts, jewelry, commercial art, and photography, in which students experience mental awareness in art on a sophisticated level.

Joe Chung, Barbara Brooks, Chris Kenneth and Eddy Moore work in drafting.

Brian LeBoeuf uses the saw in wood shop.

Jim Markham finishes a project in machine shop.

Ind. Arts Provides Job Skills

The industrial arts classes at Orange High provide any student the opportunity to either learn a trade or just try it out. This year's classes have been very successful and all the classes were full. One of the most popular classes is Auto Mechanics. This is taught by Mr. Miladinovich. Other classes include woodshop, taught by Mr. Meyers; metal shop, run by Mr. Schnepf; machine shop with Mr. McCabe; and drafting, taught by Mr. Miller.

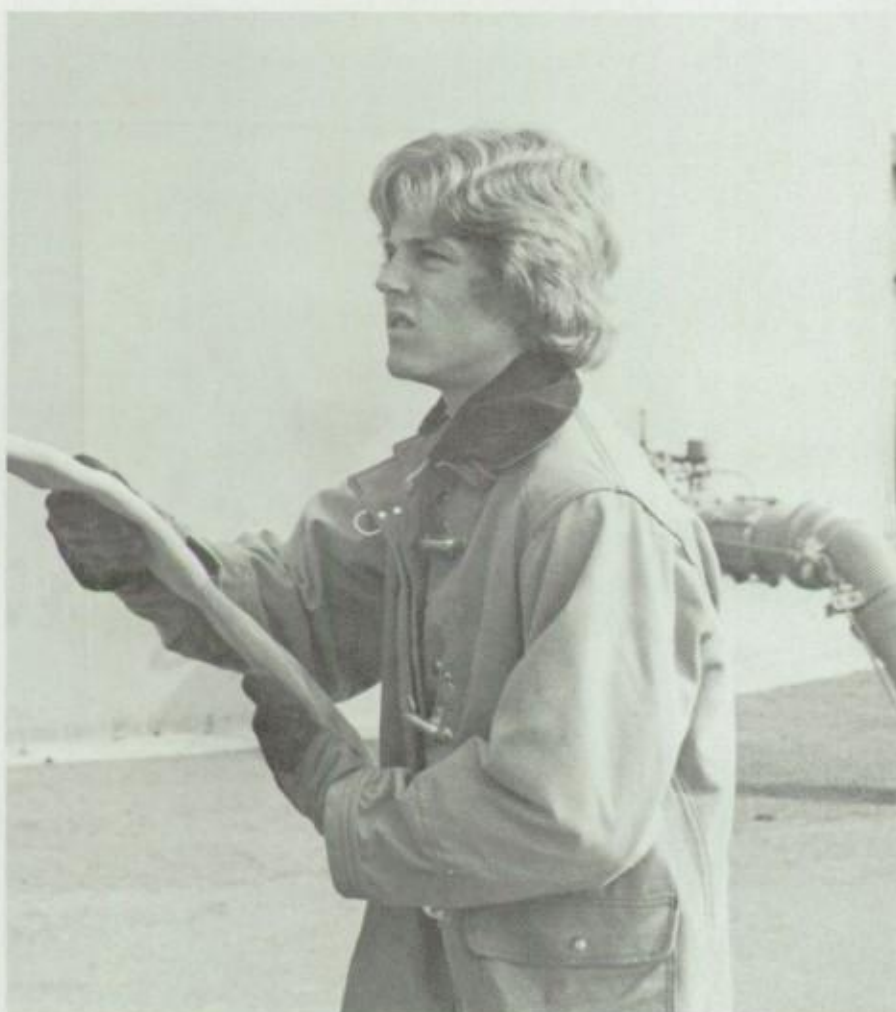

R.O.P. In Action

Two of the many career guidance and development programs that Orange High School offers are Exploratory Work Experience and Career Exploration in Education (CEE). Exploratory Work Experience offers students an opportunity to sample a variety of possible career areas while evaluating their interest and capabilities for success in each career. The students both observe and participate in the careers of their choice, and gain actual on-the-job experience. For example, career exposure in law, medicine, dentistry, banking, secretarial, and photography are but a few. You could consider every employer in our community as a possible training station.

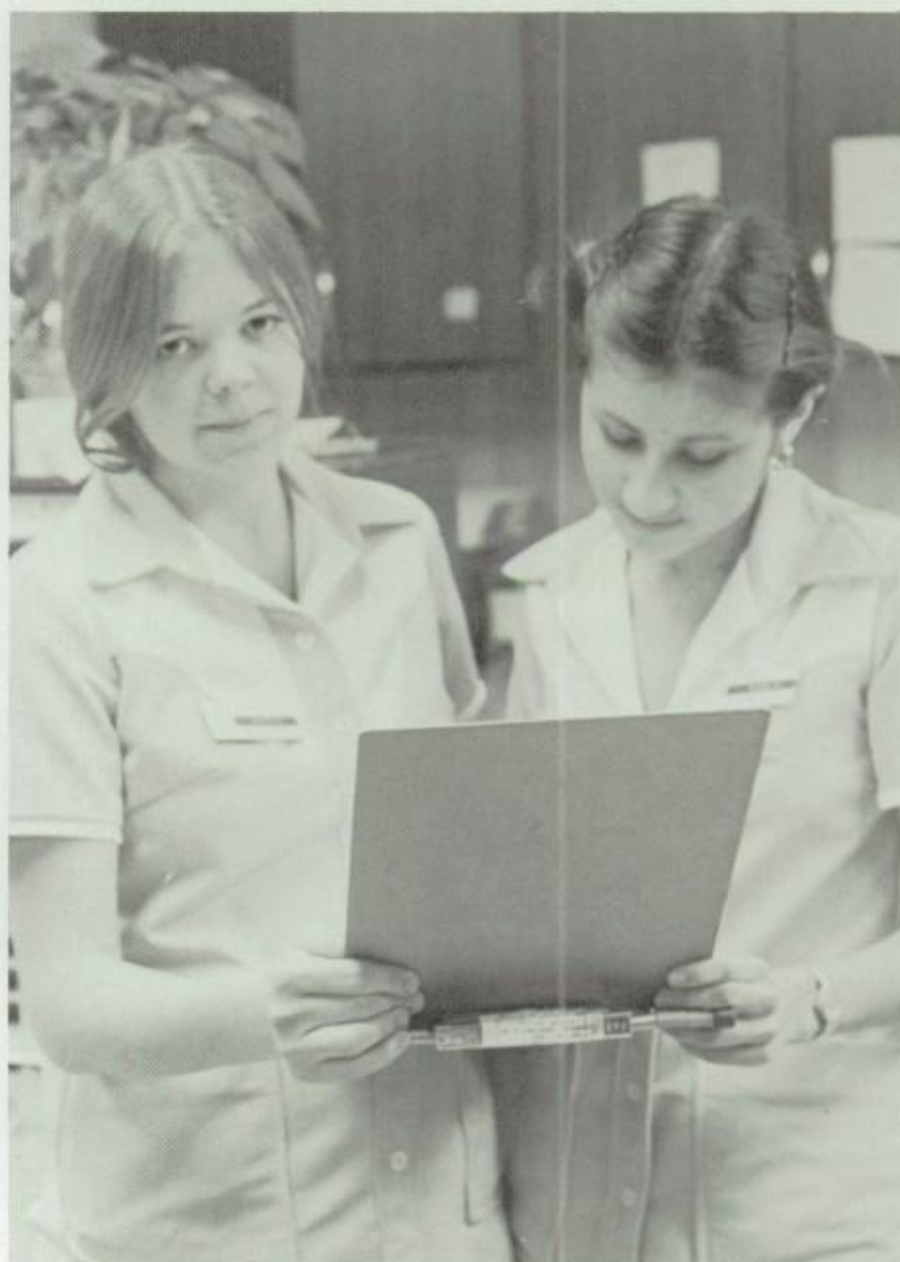

CEE allows students to explore the field of education in a laboratory situation, using actual elementary and junior high school classroom situations. Students gain experience observing and working with a variety of children and subjects. They become actively involved with the role of a teacher. CEE students also meet in a seminar situation for related work and the exchanging of ideas. Both programs offer high school credit along with career development.

MIME TROUPE FORMS

"Mime's the Word"

Last year, Orange High became involved with the Artists in Schools program which has allowed a number of students to be exposed to the art of movement in silence, pantomime. Since that time, four girls have become so involved with the program that they have formed their own mime group called "Mime's the Word." The four girls involved with this advanced mime class are juniors Kathy Carter, Dana Judd, Tina Allen and senior Karrie Kennedy.

Directors Ms. Tait and Ms. Silva have helped to arrange numerous performances for the group. The girls have then practiced their techniques in such places as libraries, museums, Renaissance Faires, and childrens hospitals.

The group displayed some of their talent to our staff by interpreting our division page titles in a number of poses.

Vocal Music Program Grows

This year the OHS vocal department kept its students busy with a wide variety of activities. A very active year included a number of festivals, concerts and community programs such as Rotary Club and Lions club meetings. The Music Dept. also performed a Christmas concert, followed by a major musical production entitled, "Little Mary Sunshine."

Spirit Week

On Oct. 17-21 Spirit Week began. These days were highlighted by such activities as "50's day", "Country Western day", "Character day" and "Color day." The month of October was fun-filled and spirited.

Both students and teachers alike bebopped to the lunchtime tunes of Frankie Avalon, while on Country day, sat-in-the-hayride with their honeys. The highlights of the week were the gong show, big wheel races, and the tug-of-war contest with the figs winning.

One o'clock, Two o'clock, Three o'clock, rock!

HOMECOMING - 1977

Spectators at Fred Kelly Stadium on Thursday, Oct. 20, witnessed a challenging game between the Panthers and the Santa Ana Saints.

Leading the halftime was the Panther jazz band with popular themes, such as "Gonna Fly Now". Then the members of the homecoming court were escorted onto the field by their fathers. An anxious crowd watched as Jean Ziegler was crowned queen and Pam Poledouris was awarded Maid of Honor.

A final score of 21-4 for the Panthers made the event exciting for everyone.

Homecoming 1977 "Broadway Stars"

Many Orange High students exploded on the dance floor while celebrating a victorious Homecoming game. The 1978 Homecoming dance was held at the Garden Grove Civic Center on October 21 with the band, "Freeflight", playing an unlimited variety of music. This highlighted a very successful evening.

Renaissance Faire

As "olde English" life reflected the scene, belly-dancers, wandering minstrels, and laughing court jesters invaded Orange High Tuesday, December 13th as the Renaissance faire began.

Presented by British Literature classes and other English classes, the event was held on the grass and concrete between the science building and offices. The festivities included beautiful hand-made gifts and everything from pots to vases from Mrs. Dennis's ceramics class. The event was very successful as a fund raiser as well as an enjoyable activity.

Faculty Stops Lettermen Streak

Win Donkey Basketball Contest 36-28

In the O.H.S. Gym the upset of the year took place, when the lettermen's two year winning streak was finally ended by the faculty, 36-28. The halftime show by the cheerleaders did not help the lettermen, as they lost their halftime lead of 16-14. The hot shooting and riding of the faculty outscored the lettermen 22-12 in the second half. The great second half effort of the faculty, overcame the lettermen's spirit, as they breezed to a 36-28 victory.

Ladie's Choice At El Adobe

Nick McGuire was crowned king of "Tonight's the Night," the annual "Girl-Date-Boy" dance. The dance was held at the picturesque El Adobe de Capistrano. As the band "Blackwater Gold" played, the ceiling opened up and the couples spent an enjoyable evening dancing under the stars.

Dance, dance, dance was everyone's goal for the Dance Marathon sponsored by Orchesis. Beginning Saturday, January 14 at 5:00 P.M. the Marathon continued through the night until 11:00 A.M. Sunday. Out of twenty couples only five survived the exhausting experience. All of this was well worth the effort, since the proceeds were awarded to Dance Production.

Prom Held On Queen Mary

"Come Sail Away" was the theme for this year's prom held on the Queen Mary, May 20. As couples danced to the romantic melodies of "Starbound," others wandered along the deck admiring the ocean view of Long Beach. This year's prom is special in that this is probably the last time of OHS students to dance on the Queen.

Orange Welcomes Swedish Students

This year, Orange High was fortunate enough to have three foreign exchange students. Kristina Erkers and Cecilia Tjoslen arrived in the United States a week prior to registration from Ljunghusen and Orebro, Sweden. Soon after their arrival was that of Johan Manganas from Gothenborg, Sweden. None of the three students knew quite what to expect when they landed except for what they had heard and seen on television. Soon however, they found the States to be a beautiful area and upon entering Orange High, they found a number of differences in our social customs, especially relations of people both in school and in the community. All in all, Orange will miss Kristina, Cecilia, and Johan after they leave in July and we hope that this has proved to be a memorable experience they will cherish for the rest of their lives.

Assemblies Break The Daily Routine

Assemblies stimulated an increased interest this year as a wide range of entertainment involved the student body. The various activities included lunch concerts, spirit assemblies, guest speakers and even juggling comedians. In one exhibition, the "Reeko Brothers", displayed their incredible talents of juggling while humorously catching the attention of the crowd.

Eggers Finishes Her

40 Years At

Orange High

Many memories will radiate from Orange High in 1978, although none will present the friendly, inspiring images of Mrs. Norma Eggers. As of this year, she is retiring from her position which includes setting up schedules, running computers and planning registration. As a graduate of Orange from the class of 38', she has followed as a loyal contributor to her alma mater as she once told Mrs. Paxman "I would work at Orange even if they didn't pay me". Her plans for retirement include traveling around the country as she already has been to the Caribbean and Hawaii. Perhaps, even more significantly everyone will remember this truly helpful person for the special things she has done for all of us.

Orange High Reviews 75 Years

Around 1900 the surrounding communities and leaders of Orange, Olive, El Modena and Mountain View decided to establish a High School which organized the Orange Union High School District. The major problem of the new school district was of finding suitable temporary location that was solved by choosing the Dobner block of buildings established on North Glassel what became the first location of the Orange Union High School when it opened in 1903.

At this time, the school board voted on a $35,000 bond to purchase property for a new school on a permanent location. It finally decided on the corner of Palm and Glassel which was completed in 1905.

The original buildings included an auditorium, stage, library, administration office, science laboratory, P.E. buildings and numerous classrooms.

Afterward, two new buildings known as the twins, which included the North building and Science building were added.

In 1917, an auto shop and machine shop were constructed followed by an administration building in 1922, that included a new auditorium, library and many classrooms later.

An over-congestion of the Palm and Glassel block caused the school board to purchase property at Walnut and Schaffer and on May 13, 1953, the students moved to the present campus.

Orange Victorious In First

The 1977 Orange High School Varsity football team opened the season with an impressive and spectacular contest against the non-league Magnolia team. With the score six to six and three thirty-six to go, Joe Meyers Blocked a field goal attempt by the Sentinels. This gave Orange the ball on their own sixteen yard line. After a few attempts to gain yardage, Coach McMahon sent in a screen play to catch the Sentinels off guard. With ten seconds left, Quarterback Henri Rombouts threw to his back Arnie Valdez, and with a couple fine blocks sprinted his way to six points and a victory.

The Homecoming game was a success. Orange's offense and defense combined to secure a twenty-one to fourteen win against Santa Ana. Orange scored first on the combined yardage from Quarterback Rombouts and back Ed Sanchez. The second score came on a fumbled pitch by Santa Ana that was scooped up by Defensive End John Azua who raced untouched for the score. The final touch came when Rombouts connected to End Dale Hedrick for a twenty-seven yard touchdown pass. Santa Ana rallied in the fourth quarter to score twice but Orange held on to a final score of twenty-one to fourteen.

Orange was soundly beaten by Foothill in a game where the Orange defense showed its strength. The Panther defense played most of the game to make up for offensive mistakes. Orange only allowed to be scored on four times in a game where the Knights were heavily favored. The final score twenty-eight to seven. In the game against Tustin, the Defense again had to hold back the Tiller offense. The Orange offense was ineffective throughout the game with the exception of a drive of seventy-five yards on which they did not score. The Tillers scored twice to make the final score fourteen to zero. Orange bowed to Valley twenty-eight to six, but not without putting up a battle. The Orange defense was outstanding, only allowing the explosive Falcons 154 yards, forty-one in the first half. Orange's only score was on a two yard run by reserve Quarter-back Rich Hart with the help of a good block from Mike Baines. The Panthers were plagued by injuries and had to resort to their reserve players who also did a fine job. Next years team will consist of many returning juniors and sophomores that will be the main components of the squad. As a J.V. team, Orange toppled the best teams in the league, and this will prove to be a help as motivation to all players. This years team was constantly motivated by their coaches who were glad to be of help. The squad worked extra hard throughout the season at practice and in games. Their record does not show the effort that they put in to each moment of practice or in the games. During a practice a member of the team did not know what to expect. There was a great amount of running done to get and keep the team in shape. This is the main reason the Panther team was as torrid in the fourth quarter as they were in the first. Good luck to next years team from the annual staff members!

Sophomores Win As Result Of Hard Work

A roaring start saw the Sophomore football team deal a rousing defeat to Magnolia 27-6. From the first kick-off which they returned to the 12 yard line and on for the TD, the Panthers lost two and won one of their next three games before encountering Tustin, whom they soundly trounced 28-7. The defense shone in this game, thwarting many of Tustin's drives around midfield resulting in one of the team's best games.

In OHS's game against cross-town rival El Modena, the Panthers lost 20-7, the result of injuries and turnovers. The Panthers came up against a fired-up Kennedy team and lost 28-0. From there they lost to Foothill 14-7. The Panthers led 7-6 until the last 4 minutes of the game. Foothill blocked a Panther punt on the 25 yard line and scored on a series of mistakes by the OHS defense. The opportunity to recoup their losses came several times, but the Panthers failed to capitalize on them. The Sophomores, coached by Mr. Nation, worked hard this year, and showed potential for the coming season.

The O.H.S. Tennis team has won 80% of all their matches over the last five years, the "winningest" record for any sport at Orange High School. According to Coach Zirkle, "this years team will be no exception," with Bob Segawa, Terry Mosley, and Ron Gomez to help lead the way to victory. The Junior Varsity team of last year took second in League play and Gordon Huber after collecting over 100 points playing on the J.V.s double team should be a good representative for the Varsity team.

Last years sophomore team should have some good prospects for the Varsity this year after going undefeated in league play and capturing first place. Jim Barger was the M.V.P. for the sophomore team as he went undefeated for the season and a good prospect for this years Varsity Team. With this kind of talent the tennis team should win 80% of all their matches, if not more.

1977 Girl's Tennis

This year's tennis team did not have an outstanding record, but the girls did express much enthusiasm throughout the season. Out of seven games, the girls did manage to pull out three wins against El Modena, Santa Ana, Santa Ana Valley.

Though golf is considered very much an individual sport, it is employed in a team manner in high school. This year's proved this true. Combining depth with excellent individual talent, the Orange High team showed itself as a strong competitor in the Century League. Though the league was filled with talent, Orange was able to hold their own against such schools as Estancia and Foothill.

Orange High's co-captains for the 1978 season, seniors Bob Castle and Jim Hunter, played consistently well throughout the season. Newcomers Bob Oliver and Dana Abbott also contributed to the team's success. Consistent play was also demonstrated by sophomores Jim Olson and Rob Gross. Overall, the team played as a team.

Although the 1977-78 basketball season was a disappointment for Coach Frank and his varsity squad, they showed a great sense of pride and poise. With only one returning letterman, Don Paxton, and one senior, Rex Cullen, the hustling panthers could do no more than finish seventh in the Century league. This year's edition of a fairly young and inexperienced group is looking forward to a bright and successful season next year.

Along with the season came three new basketball records—most points in one game, Jim McFadden, 47 (vs. Valley); most free throws in one game, Jim McFadden; most "Banzais" in one season, Don Paxton.

J.V. Team Falls Short

In spite of the fact this year's J.V. team did not have a successful season, they still joined the Varsity team in bringing a new sense of unity and team spirit to Orange High. Under the leadership of coaches Tarabilda and Frank, the J.V. team worked to promote a team marked by aggression and a sense of never letting in. Those who saw the J.V. games could see this new attitude too as the basketball players sacrificed their bodies taking charges and diving for the ball, trying to pull out a ball game they were destined to lose. However, with four J.V. players returning as juniors next year, hopes are high for a successful season.

Orange in the middle of the action.

The cross country team finished the season one win ahead of last year with a record of 2-7. The team lacked depth and personnel because of a team total of ten runners. The dedicated runners averaged fifteen miles a day during the hot summer days. The seniors who made it their last season are Tracy Teegarden, Ray Luna, Keith Parsons, Rudy Arce, and Ken Meadows. Juniors Felipe Bascope, Daryl Van Dran, Kirk Blalock, and Manny Leone gave support to the team throughout the year. The squad only had one sophomore, Mike Sanderfer. The coach said that he would like to see a better team out next year.

This years wrestling team was a young squad, with only two seniors and the rest juniors and sophomores. From lack of participation the Wrestling team had no sophomore team and only half what was needed for junior Varsity. With the hiring of the two new coaches Mr. Slocum and Mr. Goosman, they have encouraged juniors and sophomores to participate and by next year they should have a well experienced wrestling team.

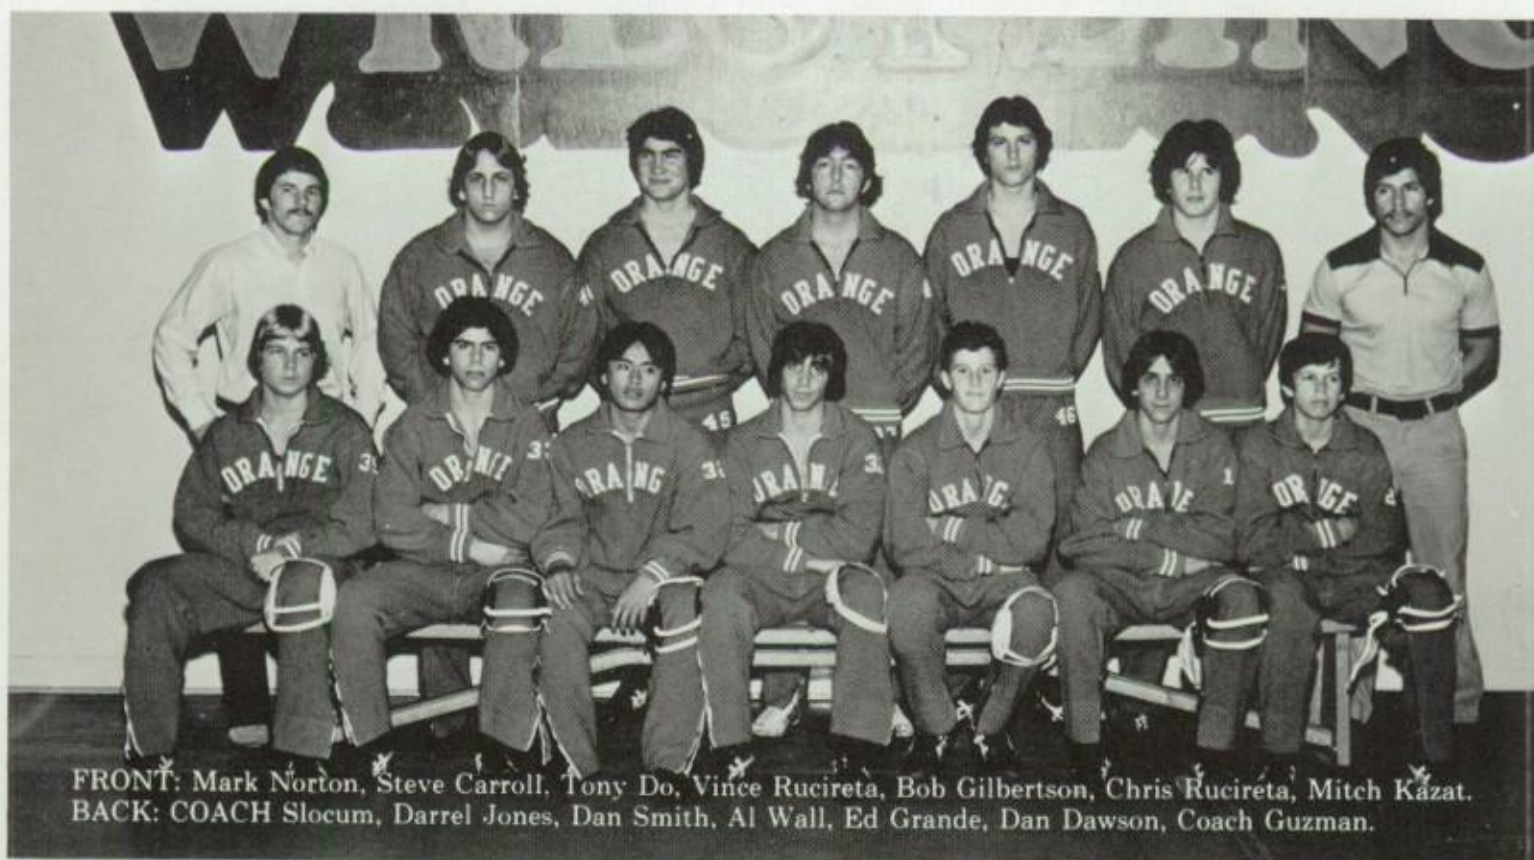

One reason for the lack of participation in the wrestling program this year is that it is the hardest sport to prepare for mentally. First of all, the wrestler has a weight class he wrestles in and every week he must make his weight in order to wrestle. A wrestler might have to go two days without eating to make his weight. He also has two to three hours of practice each week for only six minutes, at the most, of wrestling during his match. While most any other sport is at least two to three hours of playing time. The main reason a wrestler participates in this sport is the satisfaction of winning. He knows when he wins he did it himself, but if he is in trouble he has no one to pass the ball too or a relief man can not come in to help him out. It is one on one. Wrestling is one of the few sports in High School where individual medals are given, also if the team wins a tournament the school also receives a trophy. In The Brea Tournament the wrestling team placed third and received a trophy. Vince Rucireta and Darrell Jones placed first in the Tournament. Darrell Jones also placed first in the El Modena sophomore tournament.

Though the records were not very good, a number of the girls' field hockey games were lost but by a single point.

Varsity's record was seen with outstanding performances from players Karen Riply and Phil Maloney who provided tough competition for their opponents. Amy Pearson defensively held many of the opposing teams to low scores by aggressively guarding the goal. The team worked well together all season but just could not earn those all important points.

The J.V. team also had a very disappointing season this year; however, having an optimistic attitude, the girls look forward to a successful season next year. Injuries were probably the biggest factor which limited the J.V. team from reaching their expectations this year.

Swimming Shows Good Competitiveness

The boys' swim team started off slowly, but finished up the season better with two big victories over Cypress and Saddleback.

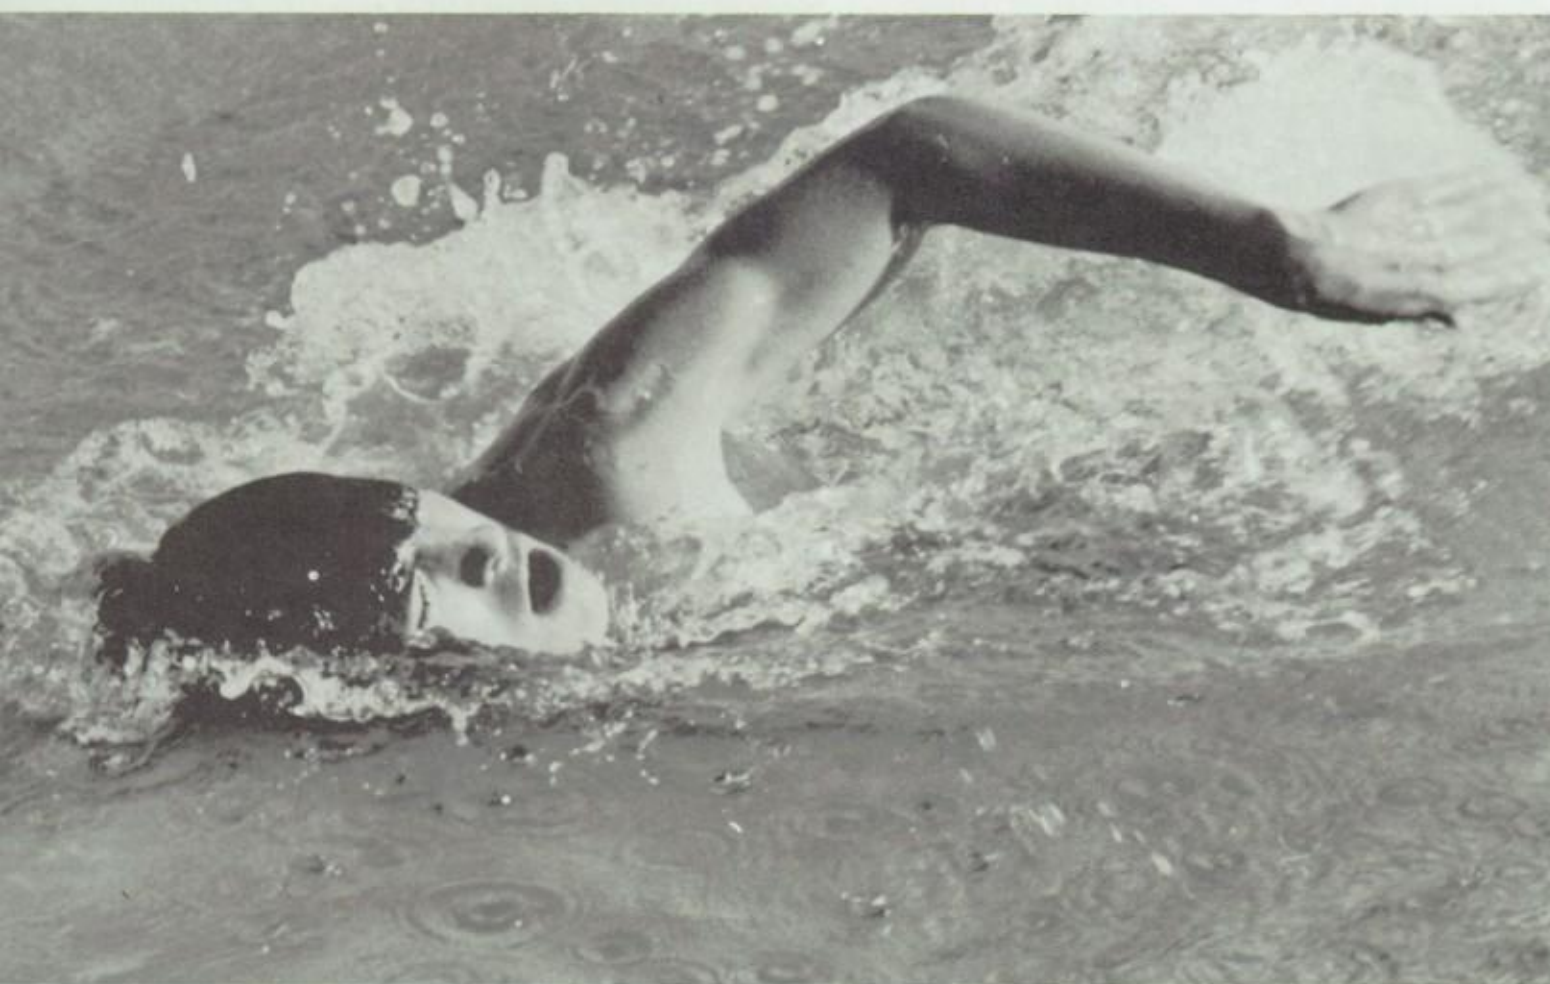

Outstanding seniors Jon Auer and Stuart Boeg helped lead the team in their efforts. High point-getters included Jon Auer, Matt Imfeld, John Hagen, Stuart Boeg, and Ron Reese. John Duarte joined the team later, but helped the team immensely in their final meets. Though the team had a small turnout, a few sophomores showed possibilities.

The team can look forward to a strong year next year, as there will be many returning lettermen.

Though the girls started slowly, losing a close first meet, they came on strong later in the season. Hindered by a small turnout, the girls team managed to pull their individual talents together to make as successful a year as possible. With the addition of incoming sophomores as well as the return of many of last year's swimmers, the girls were able to swim up to their potential, and beyond.
